Ambiana Desk Light Wins Top Honors in the Home Décor + Gifts Category

ST. LOUIS--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Mar. 12, 2012-- Energizer was named a 2012 International Housewares Association Innovation Award winner for its Ambiana Collection Desk Light at this year's International Home + Housewares Show which was held in Chicago from March 10 – 13. Advanced, touch-sensing technology and the latest in LED capabilities paired with a stunning, modern look made the light a standout in the Home Décor + Gifts category. A panel of expert judges, including seasoned designers, retailers and industry experts, selected this stylish desk light to represent the best in design and technology, and gave the light high marks for its cutting-edge features.

The Energizer® Ambiana Desk Light has a contemporary, flowing form crafted in a luxurious pearlescent white or black and finished with a high-end gloss for a sophisticated look. With innovative touch-controlled technology, consumers can quickly and easily change the intensity or angle of light to effectively illuminate a workspace. The sleek curved design adds a touch of elegance to any table or desk.

"We are very proud to be recognized with this honor for our newest desk light," said Anne Bannister, General Manager of Strategic Ventures at Energizer. "This light is a great representation of how beautiful design and unparalleled technology combine to bring consumers an upscale lighting option that is unlike anything they've experienced before."

This is Energizer Household Lighting's first year at the International Home + Housewares Show. Energizer entered the household lighting market in October 2011 with the launch of its Glas and Edge Collections, which include accent lights, task lights such as under cabinet and desk lights and a unique set of lights that mimic the realistic flicker of a flameless candle with a holder all in one. Energizer has enhanced its offerings with the new Ambiana Collection that includes accent lights, a line of flameless wax candles as well as LED bulbs, which all debuted at this year's International Home + Housewares Show.
