SchickHydro.com: Providing Schick Hydro Branded Refills and Handles Directly to Consumers

SchickHydro.com lets consumers shop their way, making Schick Hydro® branded refills and handles available through a convenient shave plan or an easy one-time order. The subscription shave plan lets consumers pick their preferred product, blade count, number of refills and frequency of delivery while Schick® covers the cost of shipping and handling (excludes one-time purchases). And, if you need help finding 'the one,' the new site allows men to compare the different Schick Hydro and Schick Hydro Connect options.

"I am excited to introduce Schick Hydro Connect and our new direct-to-consumer site, which will make it even easier for men to get that smooth, comfortable shave we know they want," said Adel Mekhail, Vice President of the Americas, Edgewell Personal Care. "For nearly a century, Edgewell Personal Care and its predecessors have been in the business of bringing innovation and choices to consumers, and we take pride in making quality products across the entire shave category at every price point."

"More than ever before, consumers expect access to exceptional products when they want it, how they want it, without having to sacrifice comfort and protection," Mekhail continued. "Through SchickHydro.com and Schick Hydro Connect, we are providing consumers with increased purchase options online, delivering the ultimate shave experience directly to their doorstep. Now, whether you are a Schick Hydro or a Gillette® Fusion® or Mach3®[†] user or are discovering Schick Hydro® for the first time, SchickHydro.com makes it easy for you to experience a great shave at great value."

Offering Consumers High-Quality Options at a Value

Since its debut in 2010, Schick Hydro has been a challenger brand, inspiring the shave category to constantly evolve, beginning with a shave providing instant lubricating protection and designed to help protect skin from irritation. SchickHydro.com takes the brand's commitment to providing quality and value to new heights, giving consumers added flexibility to get a great shave and save money when they sign up for a shave plan.

- Schick Hydro Connect 5 blade refills fit the Gillette® Fusion®[†] handle^{} and cost less when you subscribe to a shave plan – pricing starts at just $10 for a 3 count of refills.
- Schick Hydro Connect 3 blade refills fit the Gillette® Mach3®[†] handle^{} and cost less when you subscribe to a shave plan – pricing starts at just $7 for a 3 count of refills.
